Annual '09
Meeting

15 - 16 August • Canberra Hyatt

The Medical Oncology Group of Australia (MOGA) is proud to present:

2009 Best of ASCO[®] Meeting

A program licensed by the American Society of Clinical Oncology

Bringing the key highlights and findings from the Annual Meeting of the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) to Australia.

There is an exciting new opportunity for all MOGA members and our professional colleagues working in oncology this August: the MOGA 2009 Best of ASCO[®] Meeting, directly following the MOGA 30th Anniversary Annual Scientific Meeting at the Hyatt Hotel Canberra.

For the first time in the Australia, MOGA will be presenting the latest advances in oncology research from the 2009 Annual Meeting of ASCO. The program is being developed by a MOGA expert committee chaired by Dr Craig Lewis, MOGA Deputy Chairman, and including A/Professor Bogda Koczwara, MOGA Chairman, and Professor Michael Brown, MOGA Executive Member.

Best of ASCO will feature international and Australian specialists exploring the key outcomes of the ASCO Annual Meeting in core sessions dealing with the major tumour types. The sessions will be interactive and allow for a high level of professional interchange and discussion, connecting global developments with Australian research.

The ASCO Annual Meeting held in June each year has become the seminal meeting for oncologists worldwide. Best of ASCO brings highlights from the ASCO Annual Meeting to oncology professionals in local settings across the globe. Best of ASCO meetings in 2009 will be held in Mexico, Brazil, Panama, France, Slovakia, Lebanon, India, Singapore, China, Japan and for the first time, Australia.

Program registration is complimentary for consultant and trainee members of MOGA.

Program registration for non-MOGA oncology professionals: $180

Registration includes the one-and-a-half day meeting, catering and a program dinner provided by Roche Australia on Saturday 15 August. NB: registration does not include accommodation.
